

SKILLS FOR SUSTAINABILITY– EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION AWARD

The Skills for Sustainability–Educational Institution Award will recognise an educational provider who has embedded sustainability principles into their work practices. This award showcases outstanding achievement in the delivery of qualifications and skill sets through programs, products and nationally recognised training.

To nominate, an organisation must:

- demonstrate how they are delivering outstanding skills for sustainability
- indicate which programs, products and/or work practices adhere to sustainability principles (social, economic, environmental), and
- be a Registered Training Organisation (RTO) for which delivery of vocational education and training is their core business.

RTOs nominating for the Skills for Sustainability–Educational Institution Award category must nominate directly to the Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relations by Friday 30 July 2010.

In preparing and submitting your nomination, it is important that you address the Skills for Sustainability–Educational Institution Award criteria. A copy of this document is available from www.australiantrainingawards.gov.au
